Letter in folder dated January 27, 1926, written in response to an inquiry.

I have to advise you, that this Bureau is unable to furnish the history of a soldier of the Revolution, unless a claim for pension, or bounty land has been made on account of his services and a careful search of the records fails to show such a claim on file for a Benjamin Lovejoy.

You are herewith furnished the history of the only Andrew Lovejoy found on said records.

From the papers in the pension claim, S.13790, it appears that Andrew Lovejoy was born in December 1760, at Nobletown (later called Hillsdale) Columbia County, New York and enlisted there and served as a private in the New York Troops as follows:

From the spring of 1777, for five months, in Captain James Spencer's Company, Colonel Ten Eyck's Regiment.

In 1778 or 1779, for ten months, in Captain Ezekiel Cooper's Company of Rangers.

For three months in Captain Joshua Whitney's Company Colonel Waterman's Regiment: for one month in Captain Daniel Salsbury's Company, Colonel Alden's Regiment: for two months in Captain Aaron Hale's Company, and was in an engagement at Schoharie. Dates of these services not given.

From the spring of 1780 for nine months and ten days, in Captain Thomas Brown's Company, Colonel Harper's Regiment and in Captain Dunscomb's Company, Colonel Weisenfelt's Regiment.

He was allowed pension on his application executed July 17, 1832, while living at Hudson, Columbia County, New York. He died November 9, 1836.

There is not data on file as to family.
