Letter in folder dated February 6, 1929, written in response to an inquiry.

I advise you from the papers in the Revolutionary War pension claim, S.42486, it appears that James Terwilliger enlisted at Fort Montgomery, New York, in the beginning of 1776, served as a private in Captain Hamtramck's Company, Colonel VanCortlandt's New York Regiment, was in the battles of White Plains, Fort Montgomery, where he was taken prisoner and held about thirteen months; in General Sullivan's expedition against the Indians, the battle of Yorktown, at the taking of Cornwallis and was discharged, June 8, 1783.

He was allowed pension on his application executed April 20, 1818, while a resident of Shawangunk, Ulster County, New York, aged sixty-three years.

In 1820 he was residing in Ulster County, New York, with his daughter, her name is onto given and the name of soldier's wife is not stated.

He died, September 2, 1821, and the arrearage of pension due him was paid in May 1822, to his son-in-law, Andrew Kain (name of his wife is not stated), who resided in Shawangunk, New York.

There are no further data concerning soldier's family.
